Not Ladies' Day; Maitland Pitcher

Today is not Ladies' Day at Stone Mountain. Jackson Park. According to the usual custom the first game of the week at home is Ladies' day but today is an exception as it is a holiday. The management of the Danville club has asked that this be stated so there will be no disappointment owing to a set league ruling. The gate receipts at every city in the league will be pooled today and sent to the league head, where they will be divided after such league expenses as salaries and official costs are extracted. The attendance at Greensboro was checked this morning and will be similarly checked here for the game this afternoon. Tomorrow will be Ladies' day as the receipts for that day are the club's and all the expenses of Ladies' day come from the Danville treasury. Interest in today's game is high and a record crowd expected, with tomorrow going as Ladies' day another large and noisy turn out.

Maitland This Afternoon.
Manager Maitland left for the Danville club at home this morning with the intention of working the star pitcher against his former teammates, the Carrolites, this afternoon. If Manager Maitland is able to win this morning's game, he will be the first choice for mound duty in Greensboro. Fans will be delighted to see Maitland, who has made a remarkable record since joining the Virginians, go up against the club that cast him aside and the joy will be greater if he can turn in a victory over Carrol, who failed to recognize his ability on the hillcock.

Labor Day Is Quietly Spent

Labor day is being observed here as a State holiday.
Principal games of the day are baseball features in the Piedmont League loop, a card of sporting events at Park Springs, which will begin this afternoon and which will continue through the course of the evening. The Majestic theatre closed for the summer, also reopens today for the theatrical season.
Many people braved heavy clouds to go fishing and to enjoy a day of rest in the country, while a good many attended to business affairs during the morning, closing for the afternoon.
The Park Springs event promised to be the big drawing card tonight, there being a good deal of interest in the wrestling bouts and the culminating feature—a six-round boxing bout between Brooke Temple and Sailor Joe Mayo, of Fortress Monroe. Reports from Park Springs this morning indicated a good crowd at the rural resort.

(By The Associated Press.)
Stirred by reports that the Italian government had notified Greece it will ignore the League of Nations' decision on their dispute, and that Italy's representative at Geneva has been instructed to abstain from discussing the matter there, Britain has announced she will give every ounce of her support to the League. Should the League fail it is hinted that Britain is prepared to take other methods to settle the controversy. Greece, however, has accepted the jurisdiction of the Inter-Allied Commission of Ambassadors in addition to the League of Nations, and Paris anticipates that the Rome government will also heed the Ambassadors' decrees, if there are any. Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Magee left Danville on Saturday for San Francisco whence they intend to sail to Japan. Mr. Magee frequently goes to Japan on business for John E. Hughes & Co. and it was said at the local office this morning that the disaster probably would not interfere with his intended voyage though it is probable that the magnitude of the disaster may alter his plans.
Col. Simpson W. Minor, of Danville and Yokohama, who has been there last Spring on a business mission, said this morning that though he had scanned carefully the news papers since the disaster was reported, he has failed to see mentioned any of the buildings in which the tobacco business is generally conducted. Col. Minor said that his government holds large stocks of tobacco at Tokyo and he would be worthless since the earthquake and fire, since there was nothing in Yokohama to detain him.

Beer Pail Better Than Hip Flask Woman's Platform

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
(Special to The Bee.)

WEST HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 2.—Pails, petticoats and politics. They're all mixed up in the fight which Mrs. Evangeline Duff is making to gain the mayoralty nomination here.

For Mrs. Duff, being a woman and health commissioner of the city at that, was expected to come forth with a platform advocating a rigid adherence to prohibition. Instead of which she has startled the community by coming out flatly for tin pails for the working man—"growlers" filled to the brim with a four per cent. decoction and topped with a couple of inches of "collar."

"If I'm elected mayor," she says, "I'll enforce the law with both hands. But that doesn't have to keep me from talking. And I'm for light wines and beer."

"The tin pail is honest. The silver flanged hip flask isn't. Mrs. Duff says that secretly host of the women in the country agree with her."

"They're tired of this sham," she continues. "I've talked with women all over the country."

"The wife of the poor man brews it in her home. The wife of the rich man serves it at her bridge parties. I was at a gathering of club women recently where at least 500 of them admitted that liquor was served in their homes."

"These women, as well as the wives of working men, are tired of hypocrisy. All they need is a woman with courage enough to come out and say so."

Mrs. Duff believes that she is that woman. And there may be foundations for her courage.

Known as the best dressed woman for her size (she admits to close to 200 pounds) in West Hoboken, she has traveled all over the country delivering lectures upon those fashions popularly known as "stylish stouts."

Between lectures she sounded out feminine opinion on matters ranging from mud packs to Australian ballots.

It is the result of those opinions which is giving her courage now in her fight for the mayoralty on an advocacy of light wines and beer.

And just to show that she has the whole family in mind, she is advocating more milk for the school children. Her scheme is for each family in a city block to contribute a quart of four per cent. and a collar that she is pinning her faith.

"I've had over 300 letters already," she says, "congratulating me on my stand and I know the women are with me."

NEWS FROM CHATHAM

CHATHAM, Sept. 1.—This was County Co-op day and from every section of the county member Co-ops were present to extend greetings and join in the day's proceedings, looking to in every way bettering conditions of the Association members. This was the meeting at which county officers for the year are to be elected and this of itself made the meeting one of more than usual importance.

The work of the year was gone over in a condensed way and several speakers were very felicitous as to what had been done and very enthusiastic as to the future. The prices of markets now open in the south were discussed and the prices prevailing were very encouraging which means that better prices will prevail in the old belt. In course of the meeting it was shown why the third reason in a nut-shell was that the managers are not willing to sell the stock of tobacco on hand unless they can realize more than enough to meet current expenses and amount to the members sufficient to meet that paid on the auction floor which was satisfactory to the listeners. Many of the members of small means expressed a desire for their third payment but are willing to wait believing it will in the end prove beneficial and help to strengthen the Association.

Nothing definite has been fixed as to opening date here, a great deal being dependant on when the clerical forces now on the southern markets can return. The market here opened last year on the first Tuesday in October but the crop was much earlier and there is no need of opening here until the crop is ready. Very little tobacco was housed in August and when October comes right much will be standing and the farmer is very loth to cut his tobacco until ripe as the condition of the plant has all to do with the curing and unless ripe will not cure a good color. The crop in the county is very good but in many sections very large. Some few have cut a few curings and report curing very well.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. McLees returned Thursday evening from their vacation. The latter part of which was spent in their old homes in South Carolina. The union services which have been on during the summer will end with Sunday night's service at the the Christian church at which time Dr. McLees will preach.

Rev. Ernest Stevens of the Methodist church and Rev. T. G. Faulkner of the Episcopal church will return from their vacations in the very near future.

The annual county convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Pittsylvania county will meet in the Chatham Training School building on Friday, Sept. 7th. A very interesting and instructive program will be given and the public is urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gray and children returned this week from a trip to Newmarket, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Acher Overby returned Friday from Mecklenburg where they have been visiting the girlhood home of Mrs. Overby.

The Bridge Club had a most delightful meeting this week with Mrs. Lawson Womack. The pleasure of the occasion was very much enhanced by the serving of a delicious and course.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bours were this week made the happy parents of a baby daughter.

MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN DECLARED IN JAP CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 2.—Tokyo is under martial law. Nobody is admitted into the city unless they have their own provisions. Nihonbashi ward is virtually annihilated. A runaway man from Tokyo says casualties there are estimated at 100,000. This information was received at 8 o'clock by the Radio Corporation from its Iwaki station, near Tomokura, Japan.

Nihonbashi is the downtown business center of Tokyo. The message said the Mitsukoshi and Shirokichi department stores were destroyed by the fire. An aviator flew from Tokyo, flying over the zone, and said he could not see a single house remaining in Kamakura and Yokohama, following tidal waves.

The wards of Kokugikawa and Hongo were destroyed. There was a large amphitheater at the former place where wrestling matches were held. It is estimated 1,400 houses were destroyed in Kamakura and Yokohama, following tidal waves.

Reports indicate the marine corps station at Yokosuka has been annihilated and ships there are stranded.

Yokosuka is a town of 70,000 and had numerous government buildings, including a naval hospital, naval arsenal, naval engineering college, torpedo headquarters and a shipyard. It is 12 miles south of Yokohama.

Immediately after the earthquake fire broke out in Tokyo in about 20 places simultaneously and spread over the wards of Adachi, Fukuoka, Asakusa, Nishinobu, Ushikome, Akasaka, Kojimachi and Shiba. There is a safety zone in parts of the wards of Ushikome, Kojimachi, Yotsuya, Asakusa, Nishinobu, and north of there.

Among the buildings burned in Tokyo are the army arsenal, the military academy, the Ushikome Metropolitan police station, the Imperial finance department building, the government printing bureau and the Imperial university.

The prince regent has taken refuge in the Imperial sanctuary. All six bridges over the Sumida river, which divides Tokyo were reported collapsed. Enoshima, the picturesque island in the Kamakura district, was submerged. The volcano on the island of Oshima is continuing to send up smoke.

World's War Menace To Remain Until Christians, United, Act

The compelling necessity of Christian leadership in the world giving more earnest thought to the abatement of wars was stressed yesterday morning in a sermon by Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor preached at Epiphany church. The theme was "The attitude of the Christian towards war," and it was prompted by the sudden development of the tense situation in Europe which has come within the past week. Rev. Mr. Taylor did not pose as a pacifist and due consideration was given to the compelling and qualified which enter into the conduct of a righteous war. There was regard for the self sacrifice which goes with war conducted for a high ideal but it was also made plain that war involves the violation of every teaching of Christ as recorded in the Scriptures.

The minister took his text from verse 8, Chapter 1, of the Acts of the Apostles: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

The threat of war in Europe today was described as real this calling for the application of Christian principles immediately, before it is too late. Despite the lessons taught by the world war no clear attitude of Christians as a unit has been expressed on the subject of war and while it has been thought that the crystallization of sentiment against it is still lacking, though ample time has been given for it. That some definite measures must be taken was suggested as a compelling step since the world looks today to Christian leadership for its guidance and expression from that great class. Rev. Mr. Taylor described the present situation as highly ominous declaring that if war is actually consummated it will mean that one nation after another will be drawn into its vortex.

The first and most vital question for Christians to consider as individuals is whether war is still the primal means of settling disputes. If, in other words, it is unavoidable. What remedy, he asked, are we to have for the solution of the war problem? And if they exist, how can they be secured? The minister said that it must be apparent that the outstanding question to answer is what relationship war has to the Kingdom of God or, "what does God think about?"

The answer is not far to seek in the following scriptural admonitions set forth not only by Christ's teachings but by many of those which may be found in the Old Testament. For it is the Kingdom of God that for it is contrary to all of God's teachings. War, he said, is a sin in that it or elder statesmen, advisers to the crowd, is reported injured seriously.

TREMORS, FIRE, TIDAL WAVES LAY WASTE BIG AREA OF THE EMPIRE

Of the wards in Tokio, Aoyama, Akasaka, a part of Ushikome, and the greater part of Aoyama were destroyed entirely. None of the other wards escaped. Another quake at 1 p. m. yesterday shook the Ota district centering in Yokosuka, a city of 70,000, situated 12 miles across the sea to the South of Yokohama.

The telephone exchange at Chojamachi was destroyed and 40 operators killed.

An earth upheaval struck Kawaguchi in the Tokio prefecture at 7 p. m., yesterday destroying 500 houses and damaging 1,500 more. Thirty-nine warships, combined squadrons under the commanding Vice Admiral Takeshita—are being loaded with food at Oshaka and Kobe. They will sail for the scene of destruction as soon as possible.

MAY TRANSFER CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press.)
OSAKA, Sept. 3.—The authorities are making efforts to collect supplies to ship to Tokyo. Meanwhile the price of rice is rising. Being so expensive is dangerous to Tokyo that it is possible the capital may be transferred temporarily to Kyoto or to this city. The Prince Regent is taking a hand in the relief work and has refused to eat. He has given orders that the palace be thrown open to refugees.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Tokyo, Yokohama and neighboring cities tonight were burning ruins while more than 100,000 persons in the vicinity of these cities were dead as a result of Saturday's earthquakes, according to advices received in San Francisco by The Associated Press from its Shanghai correspondent and the Radio Corporation from its station at Tomioka.

Death and destruction were spread over an area mostly comprised within a radius of 50 miles of Tokyo. How extensive casualties and the numerical damage outside has not been determined, as all communications with Japan are still interrupted except for brief connections by radio with Tomioka and occasional dispatches from Japan to Shanghai.

The city of Nagoya is virtually destroyed. The Japanese naval station near Yokohama was engulfed by a tidal wave and the imperial palace at Tokyo is endangered by fire. Nagoya has a population of 620,000. It is about 90 miles east of Osaka and about 70 miles west of Tokyo.

New earth tremors were reported today. The Manila observatory seismograph recorded shocks today at 8 a. m. and 10 a. m. The shocks were violent but could not be definitely located. The Saturday shock which devastated Tokyo and environs was the greatest the Manila seismograph has recorded in 30 years, according to Father Serra, geologist in charge.

Last word from Japan received by the Radio Corporation was at 4:42 o'clock this morning. That was from the Tomioka station. Additional advices from Tomioka were expected momentarily. Wireless service is being maintained by all other means of travel and communication between Tokyo and the remainder of Japan and the outside world cut off from Tokyo and the other cities on the eastern coast of the island of Honshu.

The cities of Tokyo and Yokohama were described by the superintendent of the Japanese government wireless station at Tomioka, which operates via Radio Corporation, as "like hell."

Buildings were falling, fire was spreading everywhere, dead and dying were on all sides, there were explosions and cries of horror by the panic stricken population.

What quake and fire did not destroy on land tidal waves are reported to have crushed and sunk at sea.

The damage in Tokyo harbor and what ships were there still remained to be determined. The latest reports received today said hardly a structure was left standing in the Yamanote district which includes the Tokyo wards of Minami, Fukuoka, Akasaka, Shitaya, Nishinobu, and Kanda.

Tens of thousands of guests at resorts in the Hakone district of Yokohama in the mountains were driven from their quarters by quakes and fires. The number of casualties is uncounted. The town of Atama was demolished, six or seven thousand persons being killed.

At Ito, on the Odzu peninsula more than 500 houses were smashed away by tidal waves. Six hundred persons are reported to have perished when a railway tunnel at Sasaki collapsed.

Fire cannot be determined as the fire has destroyed stocks.

TOKIO STILL BURNING: BANK IS DESTROYED

(By The Associated Press.)
NAGASAKI, Sept. 3.—Tokio is still burning, according to advices received today. The offices of the Bank of Japan are reported to have been demolished yesterday.

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Six Koreans were shot to death by soldiers making martial law effective in the devastated area of Tokyo, according to wireless messages received here at three today from Tomioka by the Radio Corporation of America.

The same message said the work of relief was already under way and provisions were being supplied to refugees from Tokyo central station which is undamaged.

Reports from Yokohama say the damage to building and the foreign settlement has been very serious. The Specie Bank and the Grand Hotel in that city have been demolished. While the capital of the empire burned, the news premier Yamamoto hastened the work of forming his cabinet and various dispatches state that the new government was officially installed last evening after the final meeting of ministers yesterday. Acting premier Ichida decided on the promulgation of martial law. The emergency committee and the reestablishment of a relief bureau.

It is reported that martial law has been extended to Yokohama. All markets have been closed throughout Japan.

The terrible plight of the people in Tokyo and Yokohama is graphically depicted in various newspaper dispatches received here. So acute is the food shortage that the hungry people have been trying to catch the carp in the pond of Ohibishi park.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 tons of rice are needed at Tokyo alone. The quantity available cannot be determined as the fire has destroyed stocks.

Sore, Bleeding Gums Point To Pyorrhea Ahead

Dentists say that a great majority of people either have pyorrhea (Riggs disease) or pyorrhea tendencies. The beginning is sore, receding or bleeding gums, sensitive or loose teeth, pus pockets and bad odors. Pyorrhea not only affects the gums and teeth, but also your general health, as the pus, which is very poisonous, is absorbed into the system, causing serious stomach troubles, the results of which are sometimes fatal.

You can now treat pyorrhea at home and get relief with formula known as Crescens, the new discovery that, through penetration, carries a powerful but harmless germicidal of which Crescens (the great germ-destroying tissue-preserving agency known and used by dentists for years) is the base, right to the roots of the teeth, killing the pyorrhea germs, making the gums healthy, tightening up and preserving the teeth, healing pus pockets, relieving pain and destroying odors caused by decay or abscessed teeth.

Crescens is pleasant to use, and should be used by every one who wears a plate, as it keeps the gums firm and healthy and free from pain. $1.00 at your druggist and your money back if it fails. Crescens Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

MISTRIAL DECLARED IN PIERCE-GARRETT CASE; JURY WAS DISCHARGED

(By The Associated Press.)

CUMBERLAND COURTROOM, Va., Sept. 1.—A jury of twelve men from Amherst county, brought here after the court had decided it would not be possible to obtain a fair and impartial jury in Cumberland County, were unable to agree today as to the guilt or innocence of Robert Garrett, charged with the murder of the Rev. E. S. Pierce last June 5, and were dismissed. Thus for the second time since the famous case was called last July 26, legal battles that have made history in Virginia court proceedings, have brought no result and the case stands where it did before the weeks of battling over changes of venue, changes of venue and other technical points of law.

R. O. Garrett's case will be called again when the next term of court convenes on September 25. But whether the trial will begin at that time is undecided as the trial of Larkin C. Garrett, brother of the man whose trial ended today with a hung jury and jointly indicted with him for first degree murder, in connection with the killing of the Baptist minister, also is set for that date and it is possible may get precedence.

The jury deliberated today 3 hours and one minute but the fact that it was apparently hopeless divided early in the consideration became evident after an hour and forty-seven minutes, when the jurors would come over to the judge's chambers and told Judge B. D. White that they could not agree. It is stated that at the outset one juror stood for first degree murder, seven for second degree murder, and one for manslaughter and three for acquittal. After the second period of deliberation, it was further stated, the men who stood for some sort of punishment agreed to consolidate on a manslaughter verdict provided the others would come over. The three for acquittal stood firmly, however, and further efforts for unanimous agreement were abandoned.

The scene in the courtroom was tense as the jurors filed in the first time and it generally was believed a verdict had been reached, owing to the comparatively short time they were out. Few people were in the room at the time, however, as all spectators had been kept at a safe distance from the courthouse as a precaution against any possible demonstration. The defendant was the only one of the principals in the case who remained in the courtroom when the jury was discharged. He sat quietly, under which he was laboring and was deathly pale on both occasions when the jurors reported.

Judge White told the jurors he regretted the six day trial had been unproductive of a verdict, that he had no wish to cause them to surrender their "conscientious opinions" several members of the jury reported Foreman H. G. Watts in a statement as to the hopeless deadlock, whereupon Judge White selected one of the jurors at random, requested him to stand aside, and the jurors then were dismissed, thus formally declaring the case a mistrial.

Whether Judge White will preside when the case is again called depends upon Governor E. Lee Trinkle.

Ide, as Judge White is assigned to this court for this term only. To preside he must be reassigned. The cost of bringing the Amherst jury here was in excess of $1,100 and the total cost of the trial to the commonwealth alone, J. A. Tillman stated, was in excess of $2,500.

Acting Commonwealth's Attorney Milton P. Bonifant, L. O. Wendenburg, of the defense and Richard Evelyn Byrd, of the prosecution made their closing arguments before the jury this morning. At the close of Mr. Byrd's address, court was recessed for lunch. The case was given to the jury at 2:21 p. m. after a brief charge from the judge.

Mr. Bonifant defended the commonwealth witnesses in rebuttal of defense points with in reviewing the case called the Chandler affidavit, "a lie, inspired by the devil and manufactured in hell."

He insisted that Mr. Pierce had been too dangerous by the description of what he was doing when he came from the house armed. Upon this point centered the main difference of the 12 jurors, it developed after the trial.

Mr. Wendenburg made a brilliant argument centering his attention upon the closing instructions which the defense regarded as favorable to its cause. He held that "Mr. Pierce's folly and desire for vengeance cost him a life he had forfeited by coming out of his home with his gun."

Like Mr. Smith on the previous day, he went over each detail of the case. In the final argument, Mr. Byrd combined a rebuttal of several minor points with a strong denunciation of the accused. Using new and old arguments as weapons he slashed through the social and political record of Robert Garrett and ended with a vivid description of the "cruel and heartless way in which the Rev. Edward Sylvester Pierce was shot to pieces."

Robert Garrett in addition to being one of the leading business men of the county, holds several public offices. These included clerk of the county court, commissioner in chancery and chairman of Democratic organization of the county. His brother, Larkin Garrett, is a member of the school board, a commissioner in chancery and a judge of elections.

The Garrett-Pierce shooting was the culmination of a series of events that began more than a decade ago. During that time a feud developed in which the whole of Cumberland became divided in two factions, one composed of friends of the Garretts and the other composed of their business and political rivals. Threats of violence were frequently made in both camps, it was disclosed, and the Garrett brothers several times became involved in physical encounters, one of them ending in a shooting affray.

The shooting last May 3 of Allen M. Chandler, of Richmond, a farm implement salesman, while the latter was riding along the country road at night in company with Mr. and Mrs. Larkin C. Garrett, brought matters to a climax as it was claimed by the Garrett partisans that Chandler was shot for one of the Garretts. Defense witnesses at the trials of both Robert and Larkin Garrett testified that it was in connection with remarks that Mr. Pierce was alleged to have made in connection with this shooting that the brothers went to the minister's home on the morning of June 5, the day the minister was shot to death.

Robert Garrett, himself was shot and dangerously wounded in that encounter and was in a Richmond hospital for several weeks. He and his brother were arrested and indicted jointly for first degree murder. In the meantime the county had become inflamed, as wild versions of the tragedy were passed around and as the time set for the trial approached, it was feared an armed outbreak would occur and Governor E. Lee Trinkle was appealed to for troops to preserve order during the trial.

However, after an investigation through a personal representative sent troops on several cities were called on to send squads of trained policemen to Cumberland and these were on duty during all court sessions dating from July 26, when the Garretts were jointly arraigned. Judge George J. Handley was prevented from presiding because of illness and Judge B. D. White of Portsmouth, was designated to preside, lasting two days Judge White overruled the motion for a change of venue but granted a change of venue and court was adjourned until last Monday, August 27 to permit time for bringing a special jury venire of sixty men here from Amherst county. The trial began on that date and a jury was obtained in 45 minutes.

During the long fight on questions of constitutional rights and points of law, the defense many times noted exceptions to the court rulings and announced they would seek a new trial on grounds of error in event of conviction of either of their clients.

Some of the best known criminal lawyers in the state were engaged on both sides. Attorney R. E. Byrd, of Winchester; R. H. Mann, of Petersburg, former United States attorney for the eastern district of Virginia; and George B. White, of Richmond, assisted Mr. Bonifant in the prosecution. The defense counsel was composed of L. O. Wendenburg, William M. Justis, Jr., and H. M. Smith, Jr., all of Richmond.

The three associate members of the prosecution have declined to say by whom they were employed but have said they knew nothing of a fund reported to have been raised by Baptists of the state to aid in the prosecution.

side at the trial. Commonwealth's Attorney W. M. Smith also was disqualified to act in that capacity as he was a witness and Milton P. Bonifant, of the adjoining county of Powhatan, was designated as state prosecutor. J. A. Tillman, also of Powhatan, was designated as clerk in the place of R. O. Garrett.

The functions of other court officers were largely placed in the hands of the city police headed by Assistant City Sergeant James G. Talbot, of Portsmouth, Va. The case was called July 26 and then began the long battle that lawyers claim has made history in the legal jurisprudence of Virginia and for stubbornness of contest and the many unprecedented points of law and the procedure the court was called upon to decide. The trial is said to have no parallel in the State First there was a fight over the State's motion for a change of venue, then a fight for change of venue and then for separate trials. After several days delay the trial of Larkin Garrett was begun and this had reached a point where all evidence was in when the state challenged to the right of three jurors to sit after long argument the motion to dismiss the jury and declare a mistrial was granted by Judge White.

SEARCH ON FOR ARMADA TREAS.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Operations in connection with the salvaging of the treasure on board the old Spanish galleon in the Bay of Biscay are to be resumed this month.

This may be the final attempt to recover the treasures believed to be in the Armada hulk lying under eleven and twelve fathoms of water.

Wing to obstructions encountered last year, the work had to be discontinued in September, but new and stronger apparatus has now been constructed with which to remove the load which encumbers what is left of the galleon and from which it is expected to recover more than 100,000 loading cannons, sword-scabards, saivers, and gold badges.

As the keel and stern-post as well as the position of the several timbers of the ship were discovered previously to the conclusion of operations last September, it may be possible this year to raise the entire vessel to the surface.

The galleon, known according to State papers as the "great Tuscan galleon," was sunk by explosion but was not blown to pieces. It has been seen by divers as "a ship entire" but burned and badly damaged at the bow.

"The poop was standing and the heavy oak beams and planking of the sides were intact; and under the poop were the strong ropes and the treasure," reported an expert from Sweden in 1661.

Under the sill of the gun-room it is hoped to obtain much plate, gold cups, silver candlesticks, and the elaborate compasses used by the Spaniards.

CO-OPS CLAIMING LANDSIDE IN THE TWO CAROLINAS

(Special from Tobacco Growers Bureau.)

RALEIGH, Sept. 1.—A landlaid to the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association is claimed for the Carolinas. In South Carolina, it was to be a tobacco, more than five million and a half pounds, delivered to the co-operative floors, according to Saturday's report from F. O. Dixon, manager of the association warehouses for the South Carolina belt, here over half of the total deliveries of that section for last year have already reached the association floors.

In North Carolina more than fifteen thousand people came to the mass meeting at which nine directors of the association, reached members from every co-operative market in the Carolinas, and the day was devoted to the curing of their bumper crop with a response to the call for mobilization that surprised the speakers at every meeting.

The sign up of new members with the association, which it is claimed, broke all recent records in the South Carolina belt last month when six hundred new members joined the co-ops is rapidly increasing in eastern North Carolina, where the co-ops have been signed in practically every tobacco producing county during the past week.

OSCAR WILDE SPEAKS FROM SPIRIT LAND

(Special correspondence.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—For the first time in the history of spiritualism a message purporting to come from the other world is framed in the language which the sender might have used when on earth.

Has Oscar Wilde transmitted from the grave a message to contemporary men of letters?

Has he, under his spiritistic sign-manual, passed his last caustic criticisms on the state of our literary world of today—Wells, Bennett, and John Galsworthy? On Bernard Shaw, above all—what has the self-styled "Lord of Language," the arbiter of the literary elegance of his day, to say of the modern Democritus?

When Wilde was in the flesh his criticisms of the literary men who were then arriving exceeded in calculated causticity anything that Whistler would then have ventured to say of his contemporary artists. Or Kipling, for instance, Wilde declared: "He is our first authority on the second-rate, and a young man who has seen wonderful things through keyholes."

His explanation of the American term "dry-goods" as the unread productions of United States novelists, is for ever memorable.

Now comes a woman renowned in literary circles, one indeed, nurtured among the brotherhood of scholars and scribes—Mrs. Travers Smith, daughter of the late Professor Edward Dowden—to declare that while chatting with Wilde, she was receiving several messages from the dead Victorian decadent and litterateur. Mrs. Travers Smith was not alone when the automatic script was precepted. With her was a Rumanian, a Frenchman, and a "Mr. V."

He it was who took the messages.

She asked who was speaking, and at once "Oscar Wilde" was written. Double Mediumship.

Long messages followed, either through "Mr. V." or the Oulja board, an improved form of planchette, in which "Wilde" critically discussed living writers and referred to books published after his death.

A striking feature of the automatic handwriting is its resemblance to Wilde's.

There are also remarkable points of resemblance in the style.

"The automatic writing," said Mrs. Travers Smith, "was a case of double mediumship."

The Handwriting.

"Mr. V." held the pencil and I rested my hand on his. If I removed my hand the writing stopped. Mr. V. was in a state of semi-trance, and knew little or nothing of what he was doing.

The messages spelt out at the Oulja board came through me alone. I could not get Oscar Wilde's handwriting without Mr. V. When I held the pencil alone the style was Wilde's; the writing was my usual automatic scrawl.

London and Women.

The following communication came through Mrs. Travers Smith's hand as the Oulja board:

I feel the London of my time has been swallowed up; an article of a coarser quality is now in its place. The women of my time were beautiful from the outward side at least. They had a mellifluous flow of language, and they added much to the brilliant pattern of society.

Now the woman is an excrescence, she protrudes from social life, a wart does from the nose of an incubate.

"Poor Shaw."

What is your opinion of Bernard Shaw?

Shaw, after all, might be called a contemporary of mine. We had almost reached the point of rivalry in scene of action.

I had a kindly feeling towards poor Shaw. He had such a keen desire to be original that it move dmy pity. Then he was without any sense or beauty, or even a sense of the dramatic side of life, and totally without any idea of the outside of any human beings, as he was utterly ignorant of his internal organs.

And yet there was the passionate yearning to be a personage, to force his person on the London world and to press in, in spite of the better taste of those who went before him.

I have a very great respect for his work. After all, he is my fellow countryman, and we share the same misfortunes in that matter. I think he may be called the true type of the pleb. He is so anxious to prove himself honest and outspoken that he utters a great deal more than he is able to think.

He cannot analyze, he is merely trying to overturn the furniture, and laughs with delight when he sees the canvas bottoms of the chairs he has flung over. He is every ready to call upon his audience to admire his work; and his audience admire it from sheer sympathy with his delight.

"My Successor."

Whom do you admire among the moderns?

I am not given to admiration, I fear. But if you ask me sincerely whom I admire among the modern dramatists I think there is only one who has any approach to form and a sense of drama. I assure you the only mind I have entered into which appeals to my literary sense is John Galsworthy. He is my successor in a sense.

He is the aristocrat in literature, the man who takes joy in selection, as our poor friend Shaw never did. Shaw plunges in and seizes the first object his hand can grasp, and takes a wholesome joy in ripping it to pieces. But when he selects he does so from an exquisite sense of fitness, and he presents the complete pattern of his idea.

An "Intelligent Shade."

What is your opinion of "Ulysses," by James Joyce?

Yes, I have smeared my fingers with that vast work. It has given me one exquisite moment of amusement. I gathered that if I hoped to retain my reputation as an intelligent shade open to new ideas I must peruse this volume. It is a singular matter that a countryman of mine should have produced this great bulk of filth.

In "Ulysses" I find a monster who cannot obtain the monstrities of his own brain. The creature he gives birth to leap from him in shapeless masses of hideousness.

Chesterton An "Ass."

What do you think of Chesterton?

I really can't speak about an ass. I can't interest in the subject.

Having no brains, he brays his nonsense out and yells aloud, insulting the fine ears of those who speak the language of the gods.

Why should I speak about the ass?

We know his will is stubborn and his brain pan void. What can be said about him that can distract a mind like yours? Look at his hairy ears!

It is true that this particular ass brays so loud that certain persons, quite without discrimination, have listened to his raucous noise.

"Tadpoles."

What do you think of the Sitwells? Have you read their poetry?

No. I do not speak my precious hours in catching tadpoles. I only leap into the mindles of those who have a certain value. Below this standard I do not sink.

What do you think of George Moore?

My little countryman from Dublin? Little Moore is absolutely little, mind and soul. Moore is the dwarf who thinks himself a giant. This is quite natural in a stature such as his.

What do you think of Mrs. Moore?

All I see before me. The man that misses, this is little Moore.

FROM CONVENT TO CASINO FOR ACTRESS OF U. S.

CANNES, France, Sept. 1.—Miss Pearl White, who recently retired to a convent, has now shed her novice's robes and fled from meditation within a wicker cage to the white-washed casino at Cannes, where each evening instead of telling her rosary, she tells the number of blue and red bacarat counters.

And have been at Fribourg," she said, "but caught influenza. I am just recovering. It is not true that I intended to retire into the convent ill the end of my life. I went there for rest, which I needed very badly. Now I am better, and shortly, perhaps, shall be working again."

Miss Pearl White was beautifully gowned with her hair coiled in plaits round her head. One nevertheless wonders what she would do if the Clutching Hand, which has been successfully clutching and holding up people in cars after leaving the Casino with big wins, turned on this heroine of a thousand thrills as she returned in the hours of early dawn to the Carlton.

ONCE CAPITAL MODERN "BABEL"

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Czernowitz, once the capital of the Bukovina, is the modern Babel. Its citizens—Ruthenians, Jews, Poles, gipsies, Slovaks, Rumanians, Germans, Hungarians—are all in agreement on the charms of their town. On every other topic they quarrel fiercely.

The main cause of the differences of religion and race. No "Hymn of Hate" is necessary to fan the flame. Every one in Czernowitz heartily hates his neighbors if they are not of his own race and creed.

Rumania is now the official language of Czernowitz, but the Hungarians, Germans, Jews, Ruthenians, Poles, Slovaks, and gipsies only speak Rumanian with difficulty, if at all.

A German was before the courts recently, and was asked to speak in German. He was stopped by a judge, who pointed out in Rumanian that his was the only official language. Counsel could not speak Rumanian.

Another lawyer was obtained who could, but the jury then intervened, so they could not understand Rumanian.

One thing only was left to do. The judge sharply censured the jury and discharged the prisoner.

FRANK KLAUS VISITS FIRPO

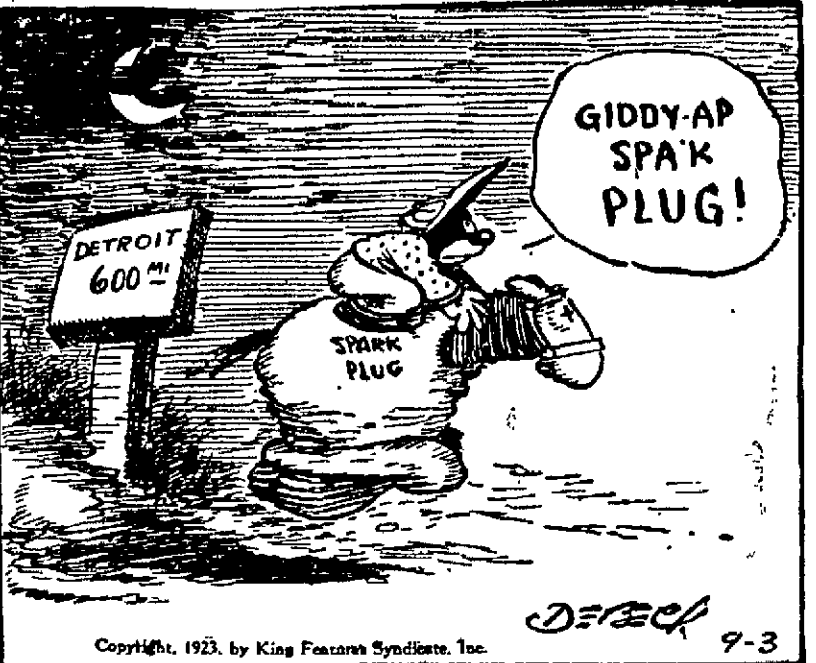

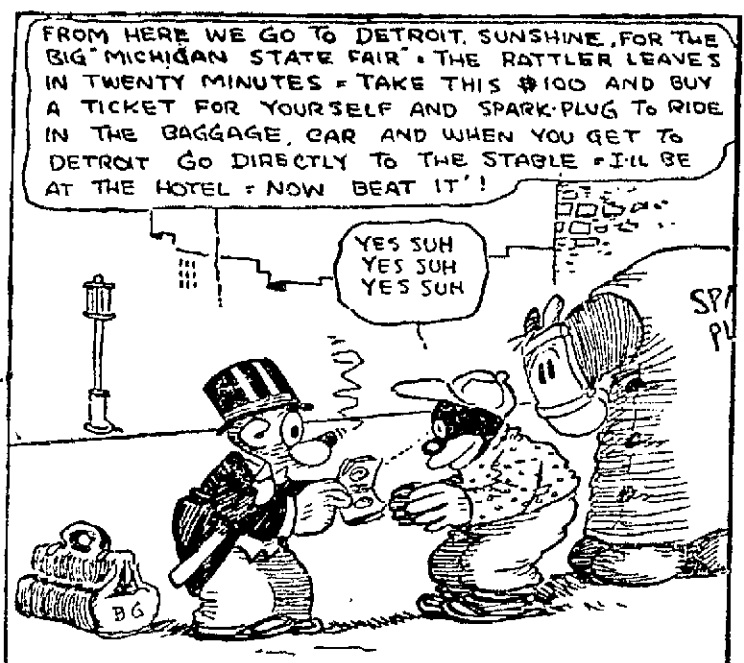

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., Sept. 1.—The shadow of an old time ring warrior fell today across the training ring in which Luis Angel Firpo is preparing for his world title match with Jack Dempsey, September 14.

Frank Klaus, a middleweight fighter of some years ago, came to see the South American heavyweight work and to offer his services as a sparring partner. Klaus declared he was in good condition. As Klaus stood by the ring watching Luis Angel pump heavy rights and lefts into Joe McCann's stomach, Jeff Clarke, the "black ghost of Joplin," came from the dressing room, ready to take his daily punishment at the hands of the Argentine.

Cy Goes Good.

Another Tobaccoist twirler has demonstrated that he is able to stum the journey down the last lap. A short time back it appeared as if Murphy's hurling corps was inclined to weaken under their remarkable strain of victories during the second half, but Gibson's work against the Pointers Friday and Twombly's near shut-out of the heavy hitting Herndonites Saturday kayotes that impression. On the other hand Hunter, Davidson College product, hurled for the Furniture Makers, was miserably in letting out safeties, but his wildness, which seems to be his greatest weakness, again proved his undoing.

The Chit Factor.

Although a heavy slugging aggregation a review of the second half will show that second to the work of the moundmen fielding has played a more important part in the Virginia victories. Freddie Dorman has saved eucalyptus games by his superb work around shortstop, while the outfield and remaining inner garden have more than one transformed apparent defeat into victory. In the second frame Saturday Floyd Trexler chased across the left field foul line and nabbed G. Thrasher's blow for one of the longest runs and catches of the season. In the next frame Eddie Reagan created a riot in the stands by winning the lead, back against the pailings for Kane's long drive. Leard and Smith furnished the other fielding thrills. In fact Ted's favorite catch is pulling them off the boards in right.

Elsewhere.

While the Tobaccoists were trimming the Pointers for their second straight, Raleigh was nosing out Gooch's Bulls. Although defeated the Durham team has demonstrated their ability to give the Capitals a hard fight by their victory of Friday and the closeness of Saturday's tussle. Allison's Twins turned around on Greensboro and walloped them to the tune of 8 to 3. Long, the Winston-Salem protector of the right pasture and one of the most dangerous hitters in the loop, led the affair with four safeties out of five appearances at the rubber.

Leather Pushing Tonight.

The bouts at Park Springs this evening are creating considerable interest throughout the city. Should all the participants appear, and they are expected to do so, the preliminary alone will be well worth the trip out. The main bout is attracting more attention than any fist encounter in this section in many moons. Brooke Temple, the Danville pugilist, who will face Sallor Joe Mayo, in the "Squared circle" is declared by his trainer, Dr. Hawkins, to be in excellent condition. His training for the bout was concluded with a few rounds of sparring with the beleaguered Eddie Regan, and those on the inside are strongly of the opinion that Brooke packs a mean wallop in either mitt. Sallor Mayo brings with him a high reputation in the navy's fist world besides numerous knockouts to his credit in outside bouts.

Greensboro Games.

For the first time of the season Greensboro is not so optimistic over their chances of defeating the Virginians. Today's games will have considerable influence in the final standing and Stonehill Park will not doubt be overflowing this afternoon. Saturday's crowd was one of the largest of the year but today's is predicted to eclipse it by far. The heated rivalry between the Danville and Greensboro clubs always assures a bitterly fought contest on the Car rollers every appearance here and today will not be an exception.

In The Majors.

The National League race is one of the most interesting in several seasons. In the younger circuit, interest is not so intense as their is hardly any likelihood of even a miracle upsetting the Yanks. And Cleveland likewise seems to have second place tucked away. But in the National the three-cornered fight of the Giants, Reds and Pirates is a hot one. Given Chicago stands a slim chance of winning the bunting in case of a near miracle. The Giants still hold the lead despite many blows that have nearly upset their balance. The Reds are yet as dangerous as T. N. T. to the New Yorkers but Pittsburgh seems to be weakening.

Deacon Lankouan.

Frank "Deacon" Lankouan, at other times known as "Specs," is no more a member of the Greensboro club or is vacationing. Last reports drifting in this section had "Deacon" working for a berth with Dick Heblitzel's Hornets in the South Atlantic.

TENNIS STARS TO START PLAY ON SEPTEMBER 10

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Tennis stars of eight countries, in addition to the United States, will start play for the national men's singles championship on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, September 10. Sixty-four players, the limit to which the field was restricted, for the first time were paired for the first round today in the draw made by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

William T. Tilden, champion for the past three years, will defend his title against the greatest array of international stars that ever sought the national title. Tilden heads a list of four American and four foreign "seeded" players. The others are R. Norris Williams, Vincent Richards, and William M. Johnston of the United States; B. J. Norton, of South Africa; Manuel Alzo, of Spain; and J. B. Hawkes, and J. O. Anderson of Australia.

Davis cup stars of Japan, France and Australia are among the entries while Mexico, Canada, South Africa, Spain and England also are represented. The list comprised a formidable array of international, national and sectional champions.

Because of the restricted draw, more than a score of players prominent in tennisdom were unplaced and it is likely that the U. S. L. T. A. will conduct a special tournament in connection with the championship in which this "overflow" may compete. Tilden will face a spirited battle from the start in defense of his honors for in the first round he is bracketed with Watson M. Washburn of New York, former Davis cup and ranking star.

FIELDER PURCHASED (By The Associated Press.)

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—The Boston American league club announced today the purchase of outfielder J. Jenkins from the Paris, Tennessee club and of catcher Adams and pitcher Rose from the Mayfield, Ky.

AMERICAN CRAFT TAKES LAURELS

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—The Packard Chisrcraft, owned by Colonel J. C. Vincent, of Detroit, was declared the winner of the gold cup, emblematic of the motor boat championship of North America today, when Rainbow III owned by Harry B. Greening, of the Royal Hamilton Yacht club, broke down in the ninth lap and finished fourth. The Rainbow had won the two previous heats of 30 miles and was well ahead today when it lost a pin from the cross shaft on the rudder and was forced to lay idle until the repairs could be made.

Declaration that the American craft Packard Chisrcraft was the winner was predicated on the best time made by the winner and the Canadian challenger, Rainbow III, for the 30 mile heats and after the two boats had turned scores of 21 points each. The mathematical calculation by officials of the gold cup regatta showed that the American boat had seven minutes, 23 seconds and fifty-three one hundredths of a second the better of the Canadian coast for the 30 miles.

Curtis Bay Gar, with Gar Wood driving, finished first in today's heat with Packard Chisrcraft a close second. The time was 40:39:31 and 40:40:06, respectively. Both boats averaged 44.43 miles an hour.

Lady Shores, owned by Howard C. Rose, finished third.

Greensboro Drops One to the Twins

DURHAM, Sept. 1.—Raleigh evened the series with Durham this afternoon by defeating the Bulls by the close margin of 5 to 4. The Capitals made their winning run in the ninth after two were out. Duncan was out on a fly to right and Sullivan was on a roller to first. Smith doubled and scored the winning run on a single by Graves to left. Graves was caught at second trying to steal. Durham could not come across in their half of the ninth after trying the score in the seventh. Today's victory placed Raleigh within four and a half games of Danville, the league leaders. WONDERFUL PARADISE OF DEPARTED HEROES

(From Pearson's Weekly)
The way in which the departed Scandinavian heroes passed their time in Valhalla, or in the palace of Odin, is described in several places in the Edda.

They have every day the pleasure of arming themselves, marshaling themselves in military order, engaging in battle and being all cut to pieces; but when the stated hour of repast arrives their bodies are reunited and they return on horseback safe to the hall of banquet, where they feed heartily on the flesh of a boar and drink beer out of the skulls of their enemies until they are in a state of intoxication.

Odin sits by himself at a particular table. The heroes are served by beautiful girls named Valkyrie, who officiate as their cupbearers. But the pleasures of love do not enter at all into the joys of this extraordinary paradise.

KANGAROOS OF OCEAN IS THE ODD SEA HORSE

(From the Detroit News).
Whereas most fishes pay little attention to their offspring, merely depositing their spawn in a suitable spawning bed and leaving the young to care for itself when the eggs hatch, the seahorse is a most devoted and painstaking parent.

This fish is provided, in fact, with a pouch similar to that of the kangaroo. In this pouch the eggs are deposited and remain until hatched and some little time afterward.

However, it is not the mother fish who possesses this convenient receptacle, but the father! Once her eggs have been laid the duties of Madame Hippocampus are at an end.

It is her spouse who carries the eggs about with him during the period of incubation and until the babies are strong enough to escape from his capacious pocket, which is situated on the abdomen, at the root of his long surving tail.

AMERICAN PLAN REGARDING GANGRO

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 1.—The simple Turk is greatly intrigued by a comprehensive American scheme for the economic reconstruction of Turkey.

This scheme includes a project for the transforming of the Kemal capital of Angora, which is at present a conglomerate of wooden shanties and adobe huts, into a dream city, combining the outstanding features of London, Paris, New York, and Washington. This grotesque gradiose plan is but a fraction of the magnificent conception constantly referred to as the "Chester Project" by the Turkish newspapers.

The proposals are startling, but they serve to indicate that if the American government and people are averse from assuming their share of the "White man's political burden" in foreign fields, the American business man is energetically entering the commercial arena, determined to obtain his share of what may be going.

WHAT PUZZLED HIM (From the Edinburgh Scotsman.)
A Scotch professor was 'advocating the advantages of athletic exercises. "The Roman youth," he declared, used to swim three times across the Tiber before breakfast." Observing a smile on the face of one of his students, the professor commanded: "Mr. McAlister, what do you smile? We shall be glad to share a ramuscment."

"I was just thinking, sir," the student replied, "weren't the Roman youths puzzled to get their clothes at the end of the swim?"

Daily Puzzle

A man was asked the age of his two sons. "The older," he said, "is just three times the age of the younger. If you multiply the age of each by itself, and add the two results together, the total will be 350." What were the ages of the two sons?

Yesterday's answer: Thirty-seven is the number from which, if ten is subtracted, the remainder multiplied by three, then the product divided by nine and nine subtracted, nothing will be left. This problem is exceedingly simple, although it appears difficult. Merely start with nothing and work it backwards, thus:

0 plus 9 equals 9.
9 times 9 equals 81.
81 divided by 3 equals 27.
27 plus 10 equals 37.

RESTORING DIAMONDS

THAT ARE DEFECTIVE

(From the Washington Star)

It is said that the process of restoring defective diamonds is almost a lost art, but a recent traveler in the diamond fields saw the operation performed by an old man of his acquaintance who seemed pleased to show his skill. The process is called burning and in Brazil is carried out as follows:

A small crucible is placed on the blacksmith's hearth, and when it is cherry red the flawed or lusterless diamonds are dropped into it with a spoon. Charcoal is then heaped around it and a blast is maintained until a welding heat has been reached. That stage requires about three minutes.

The crucible is then taken from the fire and examined. The diamonds are immediately replaced in the crucible and the heat is maintained a minute and a half longer. Finally the crucible is taken from the fire and, after a teaspoonful of potassium nitrate has been thrown into it, it is well shaken.

As soon as the vapor has dispersed the diamonds are scraped out singly and allowed to fall into a bin of water. The loss in weight is said to be a little more than 8 per cent, but the increase in value is nearly 100 per cent.

CRUISER ON POTOMAC

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—After a leisurely cruise down the Potomac on the presidential yacht Mayflower, President and Mrs. Coolidge and several close friends returned to the White House shortly before nine o'clock tonight. Leaving Washington shortly after one o'clock, the president spent the afternoon and early evening away from work and gained a short respite from the heat of Washington and from the interruptions to his work while at the White House offices.

UNUSUAL FOLK IN DAY'S NEWS

Chi to London For Only $5

(Special to The Bee.)

By N. E. A. Service

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Take it from Ernest Watts you can travel just as far as almost as fast for five dollars as old John Dollars Doughbag can for five thousand—and have more fun into the bargain. Ernest is an authority, because he traveled all the way from Chicago to London, did four thousand miles in 14 days and only spent five bucks.

The kid, who is 16, lives with his parents at 7418 Sheridan Road, Chicago. His father is an architect, but Ernest, who wants to be a minister of the gospel, has been making his own money for years.

"The rules for cheap traveling," said Ernest, "are few and easy: Just start out when the wanderlust seizes you."

"Don't worry. Things will come out all right."

"Trust to the good nature and the generosity of the people you meet. The mine-run of folks is all O. K."

"And don't forget your toothbrush. Now my uncle is going to lend me his bike and I shall use it to get down to Dover, work my way over on a boat crossing to France and then pedal to Paris and from there to Berlin. Then back for home I am using a bike over here because I have been told Europeans are tightwads and won't give you free rides in their autos."

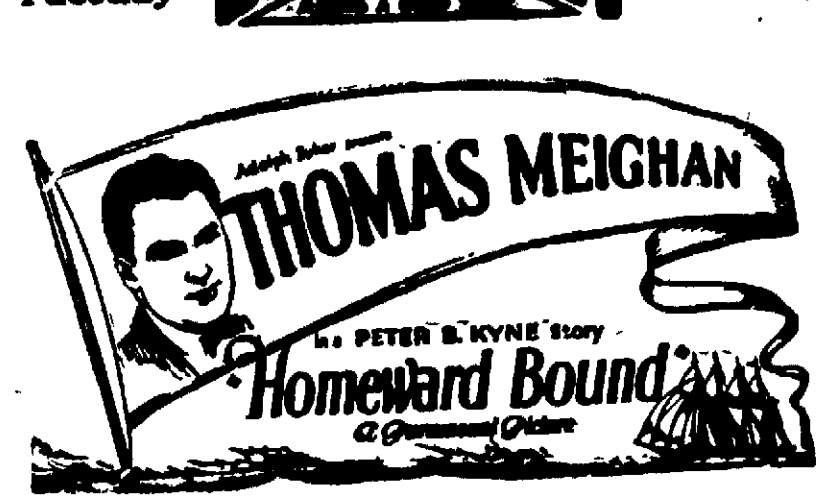

"When I get back home I am going to begin seriously to prepare myself for the ministry."
